The Ministry of Kenneth Hagin and Divine Healing

Kenneth E. Hagin was a pivotal figure in the 20th-century Pentecostal movement, widely recognized for his extensive teachings on faith, prosperity, and divine healing. His ministry, spanning over six decades, was characterized by a deep conviction in the power of God's Word to bring about transformative change in the lives of believers. Hagin's emphasis on the "Word of Faith" movement, which he helped pioneer, centered on the belief that speaking God's promises with faith could activate His power. His teachings on healing scriptures, in particular, provided a generation of Christians with a framework for understanding and receiving divine health directly from God, moving beyond passive waiting to active appropriation of God's promises.

Hagin's approach was not about a formula but about a relationship with God and a steadfast belief in the integrity of His Word. He consistently pointed to Jesus' ministry, which was filled with acts of healing, as the model for what God desires for His people today. Through his books, crusades, and the Rhema Bible Training College, Hagin trained thousands of ministers and believers, equipping them with the knowledge and faith to walk in divine health. His legacy continues to influence ministries worldwide, encouraging a confident reliance on God's power for all aspects of life, including physical well-being.

The Biblical Foundation for Healing Scriptures

The belief in divine healing is not a novel concept but is deeply rooted in the entirety of the Holy Scriptures, from the Old Testament to the New Testament. Kenneth Hagin's teachings consistently drew upon this rich biblical tapestry, emphasizing that God's desire for humanity's well-being extends to their physical health. He posited that healing is an integral part of the atonement of Jesus Christ, making it available to all who believe.

God's Nature as a Healer

Throughout the Old Testament, God revealed Himself as Jehovah Rapha, the Lord who heals. The foundational covenant with the Israelites included promises of health and protection from disease. Psalm 103:3 states, "He forgives all your sins and heals all your diseases," underscoring God's inherent nature as a healer. Hagin frequently referenced these passages to establish that healing is consistent with God's character and His desire for His people.

Jesus Christ: The Ultimate Healer

The ministry of Jesus Christ is replete with examples of Him healing the sick, the lame, the blind, and the lepers. These acts were not mere displays of power but were demonstrations of God's compassion and the inauguration of His kingdom. Jesus Himself declared in Isaiah 61:1, "The Spirit of the Lord GOD is upon me, because the LORD has anointed me to bring good news to the afflicted; He has sent me to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to captives and freedom to those in prison." Hagin taught that Jesus' work on the cross and His resurrection fully encompassed physical healing, making it a provision for believers.

Healing as Part of the Atonement

A central tenet of Kenneth Hagin's teaching on healing is its connection to the atonement of Jesus Christ. He frequently cited Isaiah 53:5: "But he was wounded for our transgressions; he was crushed for our iniquities; upon him was the chastisement that brought us peace, and with his stripes we are healed." Hagin understood "stripes" to refer to the physical scourging Jesus endured, asserting that this suffering procured healing for believers just as it did forgiveness of sins. This theological understanding provided a powerful basis for the claim that healing is a purchased right for those who place their faith in Christ's sacrifice.

Key Healing Scriptures Emphasized by Kenneth Hagin

Kenneth Hagin's extensive ministry was built upon a foundation of specific scriptures that he believed provided clear instruction and authority for believers seeking divine healing. He often taught on the importance of meditating on these verses, speaking them aloud with faith, and holding onto them as God's promises. His emphasis was on the operational power of God's Word when applied by faith.

Old Testament Promises of Healing

Hagin frequently returned to the Old Testament to highlight God's consistent character as a healer. He saw these promises as foundational for New Testament believers, demonstrating that healing has always been part of God's covenantal relationship with His people.

- Exodus 15:26: "If you will diligently listen to the voice of the LORD your God, and do that which is right in his eyes, and give ear to his commandments and keep all his statutes, I will put none of the diseases on you that I put on the Egyptians, for I am the LORD, your healer."
- Psalms 103:2-3: "Bless the LORD, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits, who forgives all your iniquity, who heals all your diseases."
- Proverbs 4:20-22: "My son, pay attention to my words; incline your ear to my sayings. Let them not escape from your sight; keep them within your heart. For they are life to those who find them, and health to all their flesh."

New Testament Affirmations of Healing

The New Testament, with Jesus' earthly ministry and the apostles' continuation of it, provided abundant evidence and direct commands related to healing. Hagin placed a strong emphasis on these verses as the active provision of God's grace.

- Matthew 8:16-17: "That evening they brought him many who were oppressed by demons, and he cast out the spirits with a word and healed all who were sick. This was to fulfill what was spoken by the prophet Isaiah: 'He took our infirmities and bore our diseases.'"
- Mark 16:17-18: "And these signs will accompany those who believe: in my name they will cast out demons; they will speak in new tongues; they will pick up serpents with their hands; and if they drink any deadly poison, it will not hurt them; they will lay their hands on the sick, and they will recover."
- 3 John 1:2: "Beloved, I pray that all may go well with you and that you may be in good health, even as your soul is well."

The Healing Power of the Word

Hagin's core message was that God's Word possesses inherent power. He taught believers to confess the healing scriptures as their personal truth, believing that the spoken Word, coupled with faith, would bring about the desired result.

- Hebrews 4:12: "For the word of God is living and active, sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing to the division of soul and of spirit, of joints and of marrow, and discerning the thoughts and intentions of the heart."
- Proverbs 18:21: "Death and life are in the tongue, and those who love it will eat its fruits."

Understanding Faith for Healing

Faith, as taught by Kenneth Hagin, is not simply intellectual assent but a deep-seated conviction and reliance on God's promises. It is an active force that appropriates what God has already provided through Jesus Christ. Understanding the nature of faith is crucial for accessing divine healing according to Hagin's teachings.

Faith as a Substance

Hagin often referred to Hebrews 11:1, "Now faith is the assurance of things hoped for, the conviction of things not seen." He explained that faith is the substance, the tangible evidence, of what God has promised. For healing, this means believing you are healed based on God's Word, even before physical symptoms disappear. It's seeing yourself as healthy in the spirit, and then allowing that spiritual reality to manifest in the physical body.

The Role of Believing and Speaking

A cornerstone of Hagin's "Word of Faith" emphasis is the belief that confessing God's promises aloud with faith is essential. He taught that what you say is vital, and by speaking the healing scriptures, believers align their words with God's Word, activating His power. This involves "praying the promises," meaning taking scriptures that speak of healing and praying them back to God as personal declarations of faith.

Faith Versus Feeling

Hagin stressed the importance of trusting God's Word over one's feelings or circumstances. He explained that feelings are often unreliable indicators of spiritual reality. A believer might feel sick, but if they hold to the truth of Isaiah 53:5, "with His stripes we are healed," their faith is in the Word, not in the temporary feeling of sickness. This unwavering trust in God's promises, regardless of external evidence, is what he termed "faith-filled believing."

Practical Application of Healing Scriptures

Kenneth Hagin's teachings were not just theoretical; they provided practical steps for believers to actively engage with God's healing power. The application of healing scriptures involves a combination of spiritual disciplines and a steadfast belief in God's promises.

Praying the Promises

Hagin taught believers to find scriptures that specifically address healing and pray them as their own. For example, instead of just saying "God, heal me," a believer would pray, "Father, I thank You that according to Isaiah 53:5, with Jesus' stripes, I am healed. I confess that my body is subject to the Word of God." This active confession of God's promises reinforces faith and declares ownership of the healing provided by Christ.

Laying on of Hands

Drawing from Mark 16:18 and Acts 4:30, Hagin emphasized the biblical practice of laying on of hands as a channel for divine healing. He taught that this was a command for believers and a powerful way to minister healing to others, as well as to oneself in prayer. He often demonstrated this in his meetings, encouraging those present to place their hands on themselves or on someone they were praying for, believing for God's touch.

Confession and Declaration

Hagin was a strong proponent of confessing the Word of God. He taught that believers should consistently declare their healing based on the scriptures, regardless of how they felt. This meant speaking words of health and wholeness, countering any thoughts or symptoms of sickness that arose. The act of verbalizing faith is a powerful tool for renewing the mind and building confidence in God's Word.

Meditating on the Word

Beyond just reading, Hagin encouraged believers to meditate on healing scriptures. This involves actively thinking about the Word, ruminating on its meaning, and allowing it to shape their beliefs and expectations. When the Word becomes ingrained in the heart and mind, it transforms one's thinking and empowers them to walk in the reality of what God has provided.

Overcoming Obstacles to Divine Healing

While divine healing is freely available through faith, Kenneth Hagin acknowledged that believers can encounter hindrances in receiving it. He addressed common obstacles, providing spiritual insights and biblical solutions to help believers persevere in faith.

Doubt and Unbelief

Hagin frequently identified doubt and unbelief as the primary barriers to receiving from God. He explained that doubt arises from focusing on circumstances or symptoms rather than on the unchanging Word of God. Overcoming doubt involves actively replacing negative thoughts with God's promises and focusing on Jesus' finished work. He taught that faith is the antidote to doubt.

Lack of Knowledge

Ignorance of God's Word and His will concerning healing can also be a significant obstacle. Hagin's ministry was dedicated to educating believers about the biblical basis for healing. He taught that the more a believer understands their covenant rights in Christ, the stronger their faith will be. Acquiring knowledge through study, teaching, and fellowship is crucial for building a strong foundation of faith.

Fear

Fear, particularly the fear of not being healed or the fear of death, can paralyze faith. Hagin taught that perfect love casts out fear (1 John 4:18) and that focusing on God's love and faithfulness helps to overcome fear. He encouraged believers to replace fearful thoughts with declarations of God's Word and to trust in His perfect will and power.

Unconfessed Sin

While Hagin did not teach that all sickness is due to sin, he did acknowledge that unconfessed sin can create a barrier in one's relationship with God and hinder the flow of His power. He often encouraged believers to live in right relationship with God, confessing any known sin promptly, thus maintaining open communication and fellowship.

Testimonies and the Impact of Hagin's Teachings

The impact of Kenneth Hagin's teachings on healing scriptures is best illustrated through the countless testimonies of individuals who experienced supernatural restoration. His ministry was characterized by an outpouring of healing miracles during his crusades and a consistent stream of letters and reports from believers who applied his principles in their own lives and saw God move on their behalf.

Many individuals shared accounts of overcoming terminal illnesses, debilitating chronic conditions, and acute injuries through faith in God's Word as taught by Hagin. These testimonies often highlighted the personal application of the principles of believing the promises, confessing healing scriptures, and holding onto faith even when faced with medical prognoses. The consistent theme in these accounts is the transformation from despair to hope and from sickness to health through the active application of biblical faith.

The legacy of Hagin's emphasis on healing scriptures extends beyond individual healings. His teachings have empowered a generation of ministers and believers to confidently share the Gospel of healing and to minister to the sick. The establishment of Rhema Bible Training College has further disseminated these foundational teachings, equipping leaders worldwide to continue the ministry of divine healing. The ripple effect of his faith-filled approach has profoundly influenced contemporary Christian understanding and practice concerning divine health.

Conclusion: Embracing God's Promise of Healing

Kenneth Hagin's legacy as a minister of faith continues to inspire and equip believers to access the divine healing that is abundantly provided through Jesus Christ. His teachings on healing scriptures offer a clear, biblically grounded pathway for individuals to receive God's restorative power. By emphasizing the foundational truths of God's nature as a healer, the comprehensive work of Christ's atonement, and the operational power of His Word, Hagin empowered countless individuals to step out of sickness and into health.

The core of Hagin's message remains a powerful call to action: to believe God's promises, to confess them with faith, and to hold fast to them regardless of circumstances. By understanding and applying the key healing scriptures he so diligently highlighted, believers can cultivate a strong faith that overcomes doubt, fear, and other obstacles. The enduring impact of his ministry is evident in the multitude of testimonies of lives transformed by the supernatural touch of God. Embracing God's promise of healing, as articulated through the teachings of Kenneth Hagin, is an invitation to experience the full redemptive work of Christ in every aspect of life.

Frequently Asked Questions

What is the central theme of Kenneth Hagin's teachings on healing scriptures?

The central theme is that healing is provided by God through the atonement of Jesus Christ, and believers have the right to receive and walk in that healing by faith in God's Word.

Which key scriptures did Kenneth Hagin emphasize for healing?

Hagin frequently highlighted scriptures like Isaiah 53:5 ('by his stripes ye are healed'), Matthew 8:17 ('that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying, He himself took our infirmities, and bare our sicknesses'), Mark 11:24 ('What things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye shall receive them, and ye shall have them'), and 3 John 1:2 ('Beloved, I wish above all things that thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth').

How did Hagin teach believers to access healing from the scriptures?

Hagin taught that accessing healing involves believing God's promises in the scriptures, praying with faith, confessing the Word of God over one's body, and often receiving prayer from anointed ministers.

What role does faith play in Hagin's approach to healing scriptures?

Faith is paramount. Hagin stressed that faith is acting on God's Word and believing it is already yours, even before it's manifested physically. It's the key that unlocks the healing power of God.

Did Hagin believe healing was only for a select few or for all believers?

Hagin consistently taught that healing is for all believers, as it is part of the finished work of the cross and God's will for His children, not limited by spiritual gifting or status.

What did Hagin say about 'the gift of healing' versus the believer's right to healing?

Hagin distinguished between the 'gift of healing,' which operates through specific individuals for specific situations, and the 'right to healing' that every believer possesses through faith in the atonement, which they can access at any time.

How did Hagin address the issue of unanswered prayer for healing?

Hagin would often encourage perseverance in faith, examining one's heart for any hindrances, and continuing to believe God's Word even when results weren't immediately seen, suggesting that 'failure' might be a lack of persistent faith rather than God's unwillingness.

What is the connection between divine healing and the 'new birth' in Hagin's teachings?

Hagin taught that divine healing is an integral part of salvation. Just as Jesus paid for the forgiveness of sins, He also paid for the healing of sicknesses and diseases, making it available at the moment of salvation.

Did Hagin teach about 'commanding' healing based on scriptures?

Yes, Hagin taught that believers could 'speak to' their bodies or specific ailments in line with God's Word, using scriptures like 'by His stripes I am healed' as authoritative declarations of faith.

What practical steps did Hagin suggest for meditating on healing scriptures?

Hagin encouraged believers to read, repeat, and think on healing scriptures until they become part of their inner man. This means internalizing the truth of the Word, believing it, and confessing it aloud.
