An adjective phrase is a group of words that together function as an adjective, modifying a noun or pronoun in a sentence. Typically, an adjective phrase consists of an adjective and its modifiers or complements, expanding the description beyond a single word. For example, in the phrase “very happy with the results,” “very happy” is the core adjective, and the phrase provides a detailed description of the subject.

Definition and Structure

These phrases can appear before or after the noun they modify, depending on sentence structure.
