The Meaning of "No Greater Love"

The phrase "no greater love" originates from biblical scripture, specifically John 15:13, which states, "Greater love has no one than this: to lay down one's life for one's friends." This powerful declaration captures the essence of ultimate sacrifice and selflessness. In the context of Mother Teresa's life, this phrase transcends its original meaning to encompass a broad spectrum of compassionate acts dedicated to alleviating suffering.

Origins and Biblical Context

The biblical foundation of "no greater love" highlights the virtue of self-sacrifice as the highest expression of love. It serves as a moral and spiritual benchmark for acts of charity and kindness. This scriptural background deeply influenced Mother Teresa, who often cited faith as the motivation behind her relentless service.

Interpretation in Humanitarian Service

In humanitarian contexts, “no greater love” reflects the willingness to prioritize others' needs above personal comfort or safety. Mother Teresa’s approach exemplified this through her daily commitment to the poorest communities, showing that love is not merely a feeling but an active, tangible force for change.
